ORDER

On March 24, 2016, Louisville Gas and Electric Company (“LG&E”) filed a petition requesting that the Commission grant LG&E approval to deviate from filing requirements set forth in 807 KAR 5:001, Section 13(2)(a)(3), which requires a party requesting confidential treatment for documents that are subject to electronic filing procedures to file one copy of the designated information in paper medium with the confidential material redacted, and to file one unredacted copy in paper medium with the confidential material identified by underscoring or highlighting in transparent ink.¹ LG&E requests that it be permitted to submit attachments to its responses to Commission Staff’s First Request for Information (“Staff’s First Request”), Items 13, 15, and 16, on electronic storage media in lieu of a copy in paper medium.

As a basis for the request, LG&E asserts that the number, collective size, and complicated folder structure of the files contained in the designated material render a paper copy impractical. LG&E states that the attachments to its responses to Staff's First Request, Items 13, 15, and 16, consist of 700 electronic spreadsheet and production modeling data files contained in over 130 folders that total approximately 6.5 gigabytes. If printed, the attachments would consist of thousands of pages containing mostly unintelligible data designed to be read by computers. Thus, LG&E argues, the attachments are too voluminous and costly to produce in paper form, and the nature of the data would render a paper copy largely useless.

Having carefully considered the petition and the materials at issue, the Commission finds that LG&E has shown good cause to permit it to deviate from the filing requirements of 807 KAR 5:001, Section 13(2)(a)(3), and that its request for a deviation to file attachments to its responses to Staff's First Request, Items 13, 15, and 16, on electronic storage media should be granted.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that LG&E's petition to deviate from the filing requirements of 807 KAR 5:001, Section 13(2)(a)(3), is granted.

By the Commission
